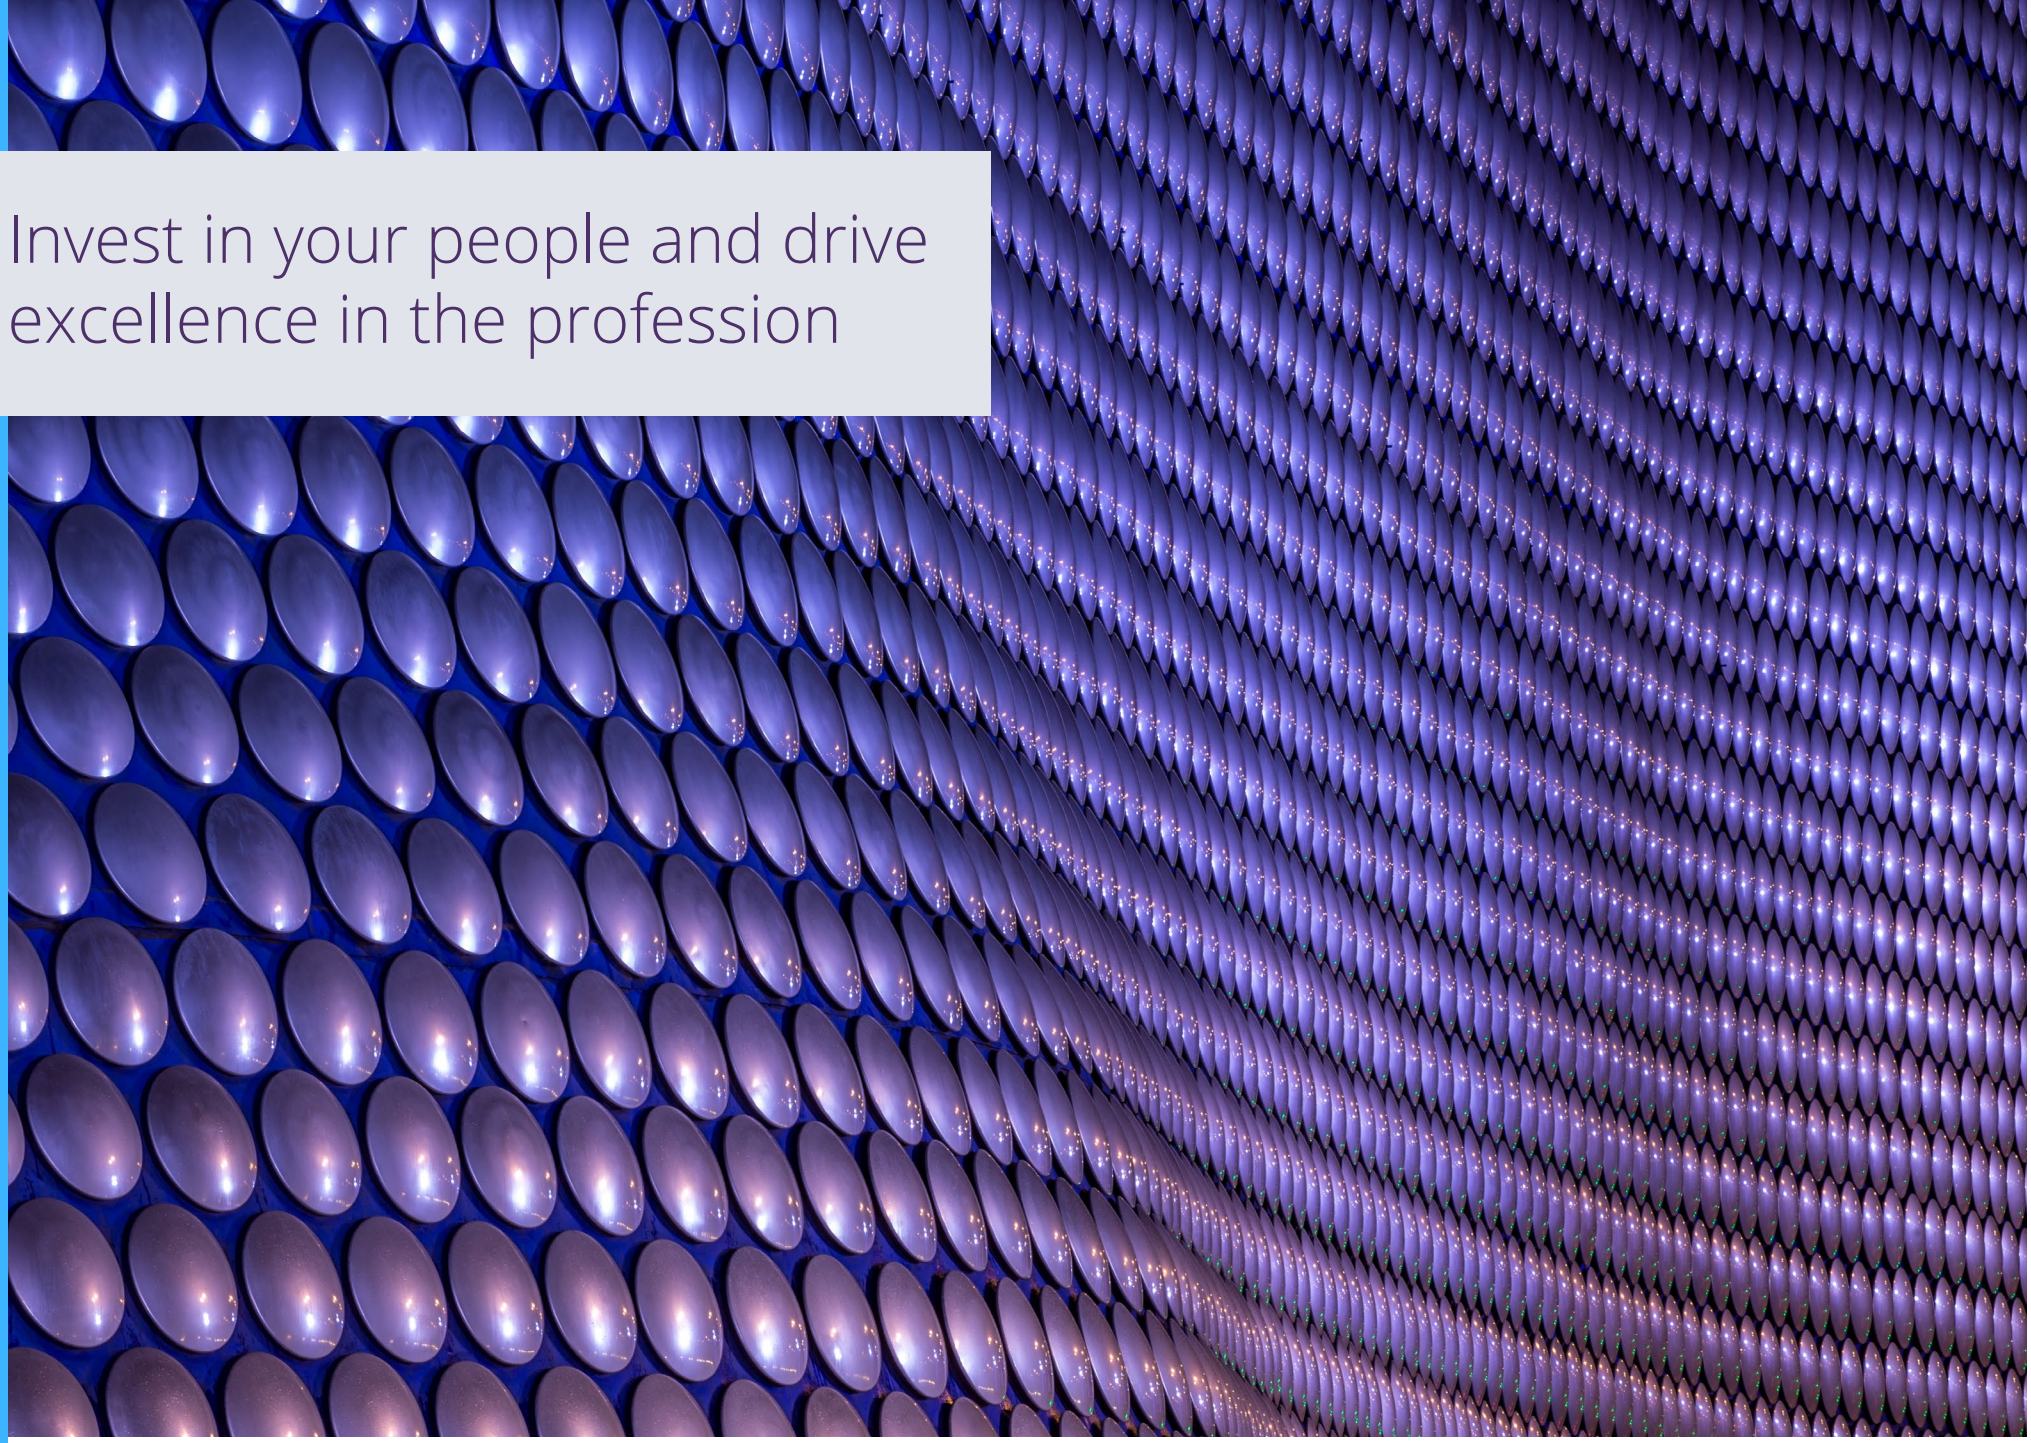
Invest in your people and drive excellence in the profession



Training benefits

Invest in your people and drive excellence in the profession.

What is your current position at your organisation, and where would you like to be?

Similarly, if you manage a team or a business, how resilient is the overall skill set of your employees to future challenges?

Our portfolio of courses help teams and individuals to stay relevant and continue to upskill. We are here to provide support throughout your career – even if it changes direction.

- RICS pathways to qualification, standards, guidance and the CPD commitments RICS professionals undertake, instil the utmost levels of professionalism. This lays the strong foundation of enabling confident markets, pioneering better places to live and work, and supporting collaborative ways to build resilience within successful communities. This is why all RICS training courses are aligned with the very latest standards and underpinned by our professional competency frameworks.
- We want you to be sure that what you learn is relevant and will positively impact your day-to-day work, future career, and your business.
- We're here to help all industry professionals to progress. Whether that's to become chartered, upskill technically, comply with RICS standards, or develop management and leadership capabilities.

Browse this catalogue, visit our website, or give our team a call to discover more about how RICS training can help you going forward. 44 (0)24 7686 8584 | training@rics.org

Bespoke solutions

Training to suit your business needs

Our in-house training is carefully crafted to meet the specific learning requirements of your organisation and its people. Businesses approach us for a range of reasons, including compliance, addressing skills gaps, standardising their approach to projects and training provisions for graduates or junior staff.

We work collaboratively, designing what could range from a one-off course through to mapping out a fully comprehensive structured programme for teams or individuals within an organisation.

Why choose RICS bespoke training?

Flexibility

We provide training solutions across all surveying disciplines: QS and construction, building surveying, valuation, commercial property, residential property and land and natural resources.

Tailored

We work with large companies, public sector, SMEs to identify relevant courses from our existing portfolio or we can develop bespoke courses tailored to exact requirements.

Private

We deliver courses at your premises or through private online channels, giving you the opportunity to discuss competitor issues or any other challenges.

Certificate in Quantity Surveying Practice

TRAINING PROGRAMME

An intermediate-level course that will cover technical training around the key principles of tendering, estimating, and pricing to provide you with knowledge of construction contracts and their financial provisions.

On completion, you will have gained the fundamental skills needed to be an expert quantity surveyor and have confidence that you can progress your career with the capability employers seek.

'The need for quantity surveyors, coupled with earth's dwindling resources and mounting concern over carbon emissions, means they play a vital role in ensuring developments are sustainable, reusable and low energy.'

Course leader: Daniel Cadman

Certificate in Building Information Modelling (BIM)

TRAINING PROGRAMME

This 10-month programme aligned with ISO, consistent with ISO 19650-2 provides an enhanced learning experience with project simulations, case study assignments, and local BIM experts for sharing best practice.

'Conception of the ISO 19650 series was intended to unify the global approach to information management in design, construction, and operation. This requires us all and taking the first steps to understand the common process is critical, don't be left behind.'

Course leader: Niall Murphy

Certificate in Construction Project Management

TRAINING PROGRAMME

Designed for those who want to advance in their careers within the construction industry, this expert led training programme will provide a well-rounded view of managing a construction project lifecycle. By completing the course, you will gain in-depth knowledge of the core elements of construction project management and be able to apply essential skills to plan and oversee projects of various sizes and complexity.

'The course blends those important soft and professional skills (communication, negotiation, management, leadership) with the required technical skillset (contract management, procurement, construction technology and the legal environment) to give delegates a rounded introduction or a refresh in best practice.'

Course leader: Tim Jones

Residential Property Defects

WEB CLASS

This four-part web class series will cover key areas of residential property defects in detail, structural cracking, damp and roofing. This provides you with a solid understanding across the subject.

'The course gives surveyors a good understanding of the common signs of damp problems/structural cracking/timber infestations and will enable surveyors to diagnose problems with more confidence.'

Course leaders: Paul Kilvington and Tim Jones

Commercial Landlord and Tenant: Rent Review and Lease Renewals

WEB CLASS

This webinar presents the latest in law and practice and will bring you up to date on the dispute between tenants and landlords. Divided into rent reviews, lease renewals and dispute resolution, the web classes will delve into the legislation, guidance, and processes for businesses in England & Wales.

'This is a popular series that is attended by a range of professionals including experienced L&T surveyors, property managers, asset managers and APC candidates. The web classes offer practical guidance and gives attendees the opportunity to ask questions of the presenter.'
